Siemens Group has completed the Akoya Boca West condominium at the Boca West Country Club.

The 113-unit condo at 20155 Boca West Drive totals 334,000 square feet. Its units range from 2,000 square feet with two bedrooms to over 4,000 square feet with four bedrooms and a den. They are priced from $1 million to more than $4 million.

According to county records, 44 Akoya units have closed to date.

“Akoya gave us a unique opportunity to build a one-of-a-kind project with stunning golf course views,” said Rob Siemens of Siemens Group. “The premier access to Boca West and its world-class amenities was a major draw when selecting where to build, and all of the infrastructure was already in place. We couldn’t have picked a better location.”

Akoya was started by his father, Richard “Dick” Siemens, who died in 2017.

Amenities at Akoya include a resort-style pool, a lounge that opens into the sun deck, a 24-hour fitness center, party room, card room and a board room.

The condo was designed by Garcia Stromberg/GS4 Studios. The general contractor was Kast Construction.

Akoya residents can also enjoy features at the Boca West County Club, including four 18-hole golf courses, 29 tennis courts, a spa, fitness and aquatics centers, seven restaurants and a new \$50 million golf clubhouse.
